engagement sessions with public universities (UA).

Vice-Chancellor of UMPSA, Professor Dato' Ts. Dr. Yuserrie Zainuddin, proudly announced the successful implementation of the programme's initial phase, which involved leadership competency profiling of 176 individuals.

"This assessment was conducted using the Behavioral Event Self-Assessment (BESA) instrument, certified by AKEPT.

"In fact, this evaluation report will also be distributed to meet AKEPT's needs.

"The uniformity of this structured assessment can be used as a gauge or check-and-balance mechanism to determine the consistency and validation of the assessment results," he explained.

Professor Yuserrie underscored the significance of this initiative, stating that it positions UMPSA as a higher education institution (HEI) known not only for academic excellence but also for its capability to produce leaders for various sectors.

"The conceptual framework and instruments used in the development of talent and leadership at UMPSA are based on a methodology relevant to the dynamic character of leaders, described as 'Leadership by Design'," he added.

He expressed hope that the programme would enlighten and inspire the importance of all roles, duties, and responsibilities required in advancing the higher education leadership agenda.

"In today's reality, leaders in higher education institutions play a crucial role as contributors to national progress with the ability to execute inclusive and diverse policies," he emphasized.
