Dreams

A raindrop, I wish to be,
Falling gently, into the depths of a kindred soul.

A gentle breeze, I long to be,
Drifting softly, through nights of longing.

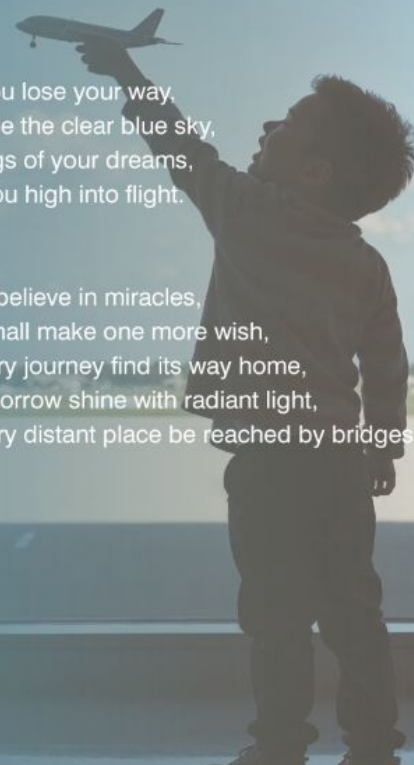

A moon, I hope to be,
Shining fullness and light upon those who dare to dream.

If you carry a dream,
Let me be the sun that ignites hope within you.

If you choose to move forward,
Let me be the starlight,
Illuminating the road ahead,
Walking beside you toward the horizon.

And if you lose your way,
Let me be the clear blue sky,
The wings of your dreams,
Lifting you high into flight.

If... if
You still believe in miracles,
Then I shall make one more wish,
May every journey find its way home,
May tomorrow shine with radiant light,
May every distant place be reached by bridges of hope.
