
VOL. 71 MAC 2020

PEKAN REVIEW

e - n e w s l e t t e r

Bridging Universiti Malaysia Pahang to the world community

UMP suspends T&L until 14 April

Translation by: DR. ROZAIMI ABU SAMAH, FACULTY OF CHEMICAL AND PROCESS ENGINEERING T

Following the extension of the Movement Control Order (MCO) across the country and the order to close Malaysia Pahang (UMP) has postponed all service operations and no Teaching and Learning (T&L) activities until the MCO from 18 March until 14 April 2020.

The decision also referred to the proposal of the Ministry of Higher Education (MoHE) in the management of the university in the wake of the Covid-19 outbreak.

According to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic and International), Professor Ts. Dr. Mohd Rosli Hainin, the majority of the students are now with their respective families at their hometowns and in the interest of their safety and health.

“The nearly 4-week MCO period to curb the Covid-19 outbreak certainly affects the academic calendar at a

“Therefore, the university will be making amendments to the academic calendar for Semester II of 2019/2020 at the next university’s senate meeting.

“In facing of the situation, the university is ready to activate the online T&L mode (e-Learning), and the Learning (CIReL) had organised a series of online training sessions for its academic staff,” he said.

He said the training covers a variety of platforms, applications, T&L methods and online assessment that suit the current situation.

“Each faculty has prepared material for online T&L activities by adopting appropriate strategies to continue the learning process.”

“The UMP’s Learning Management System (LMS) or KALAM has been tested since early February to ensure it can handle the load when most students access KALAM simultaneously.

“To date, 65 percent of the courses offered by UMP has reached blended learning status that includes the online mode.”

“Apart from being experienced with this system, students are IT savvy and can adapt the use of educational technology,” he said.

A recent survey to gather feedback from the students revealed that more than 80 percent are ready with the online mode while 20 percent are not prepared as they live in areas with a poor internet connection.

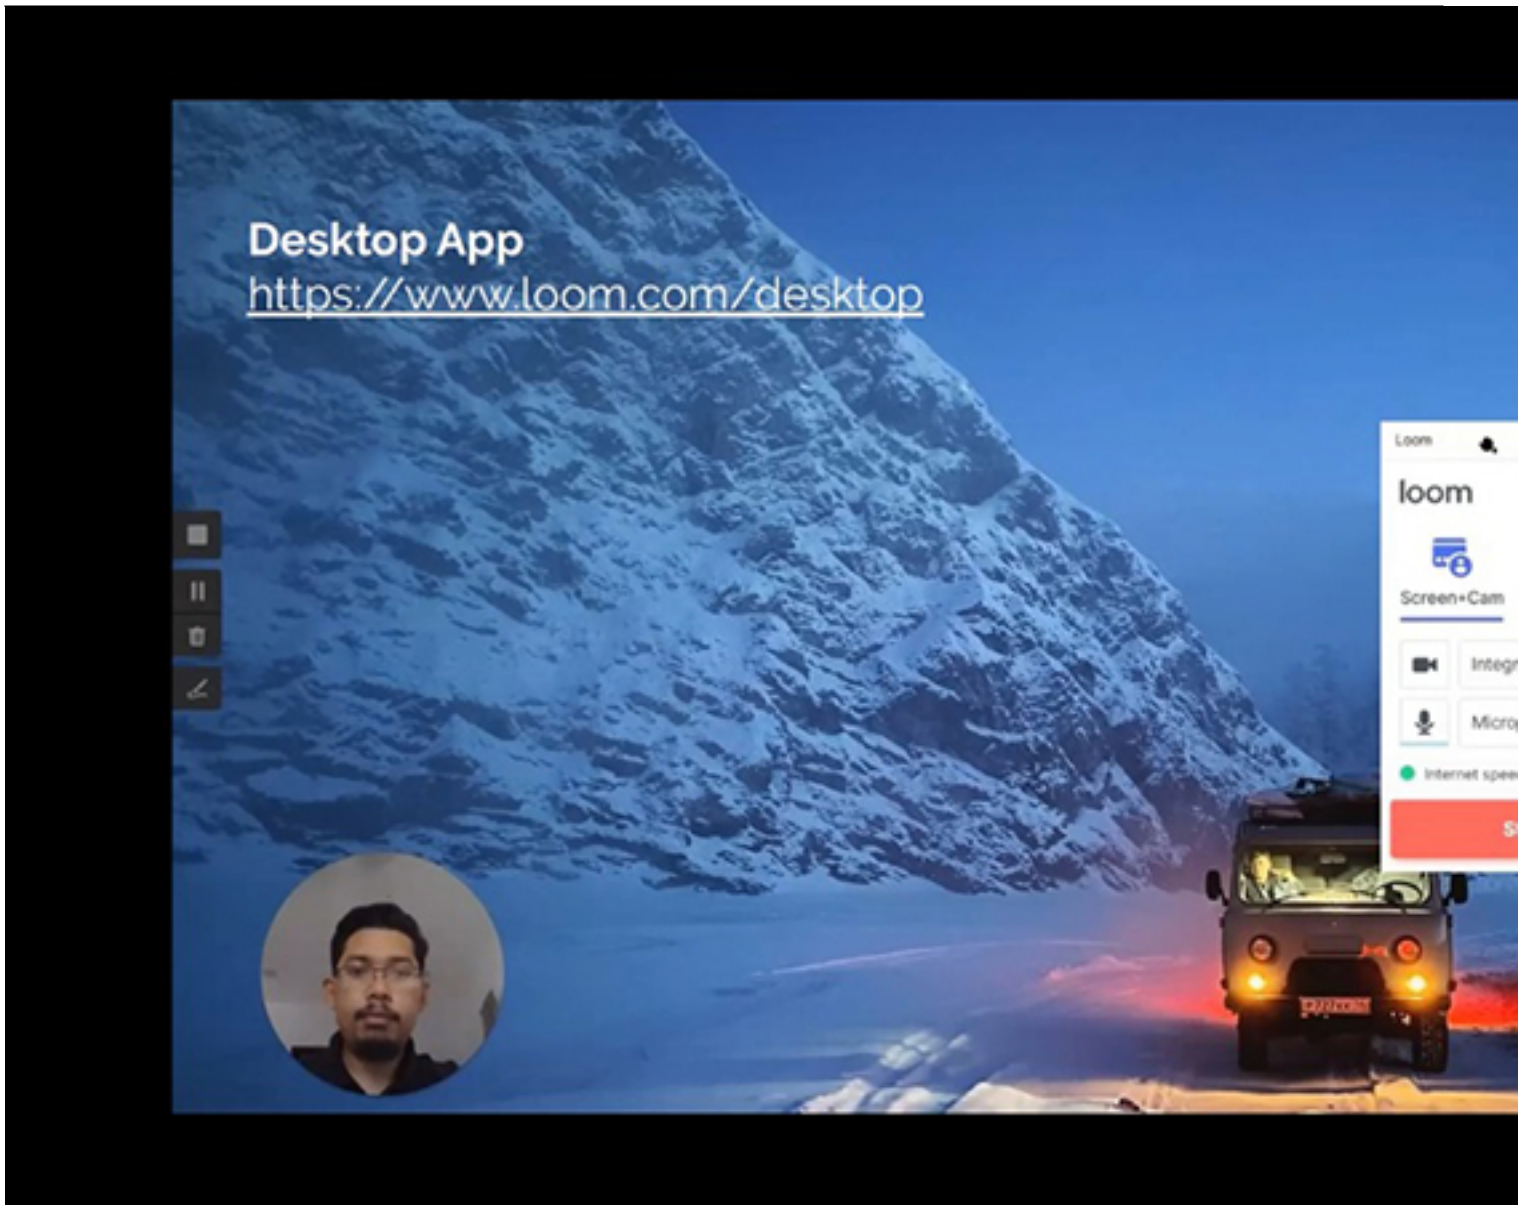

Lecturers are given the options to conduct synchronous or asynchronous T&L sessions or specific task-based learning.

He also advised the students to take the opportunity during the MCO period to study after going through the material and friends to strengthen their understanding.

The university also ensures the safety and welfare of more than 800 students who stay on campus, monitoring their wellbeing as well as maintaining the social distance to avoid gathering.

For the staff, he advised them to remain steadfast in working from home, apart from standing by to carry out their duties toward the university excellence.

CIReL offers trainings on online teaching and learning

Translation by: DR. ROZAIMI ABU SAMAH, FACULTY OF CHEMICAL AND PROCESS ENGINEERING T

The Centre of Instructional Resources and e-Learning (CIReL) in collaboration with Human Resource D Pahang (UMP) organised training programmes on e-learning called Online Education Training. The object online teaching and learning platform among the lecturers.

According to the Director of CIReL, Associate Professor Ts. Dr. Adzhar Kamaludin, the centre held the pro respective experts in each field.

Designing Digital Assessment in KALAM (Moodle)

Date : 26 Mac 2020

“Lecturers need to opt for virtual learning as an alternative to the face-to-face learning mode, even if it is ch

“This virtual learning method attracts students to engage, in line with the current development of educationa

“Even with the restriction during the Movement Control Order (MCO) period, it is not an excuse for us n among the UMP associates,” he said.

He added, “With the current advances in educational technology, more opportunities and approaches learning, and this is the most suitable moment for the UMP associates to opt for online teaching and learnin

Guide to Ipad Keynote

Hj Azwin Arif Abdul Rahim, PhD
Centre for Modern Languages
Universiti Malaysia Pahang
ariftesl@ump.edu.my

Friday
27

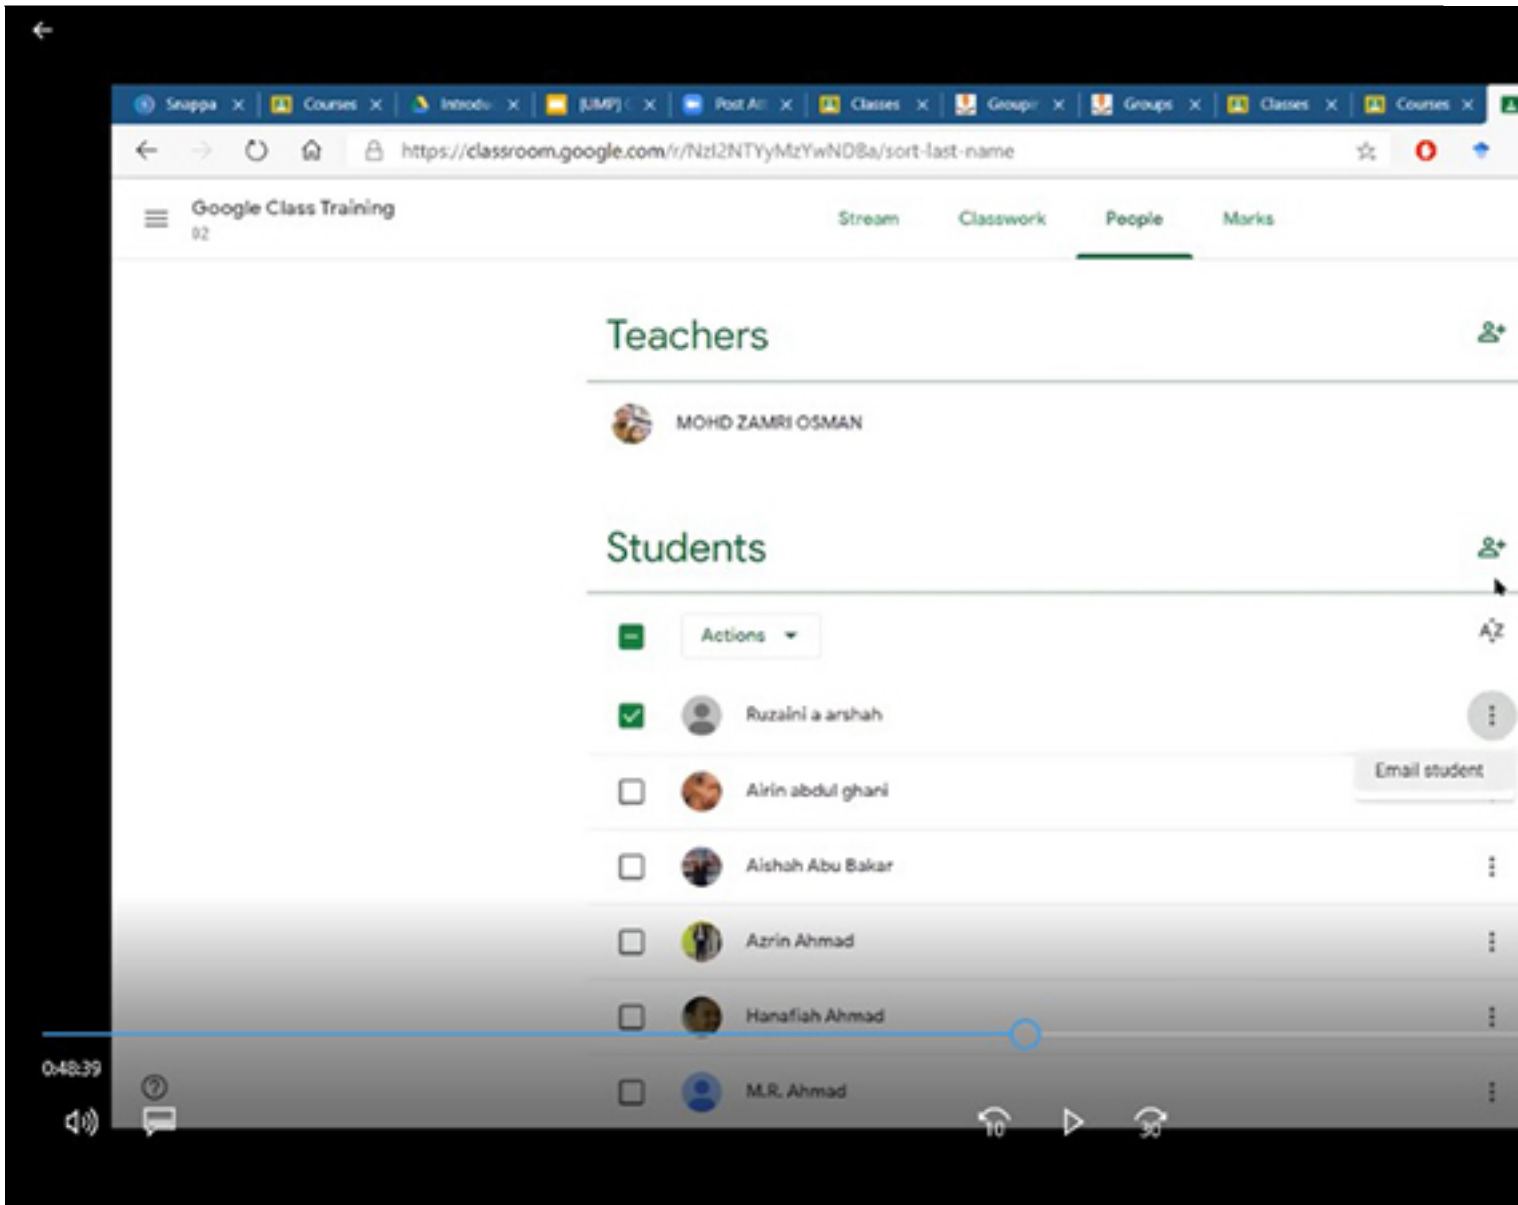

He also urged the UMP associates to grab the opportunity of this e-learning approach.

Seven lecturers involved in conducting the training, namely, Ts. Aziman Abdullah, Ts. Dr. Awanis Rosli and Computing, Dr. Azwin Arif Abdul Rahim and Muhammad Shafeirul Zaman Abdul Majid from the Centre for Ahmad from the Centre for Mathematical Sciences, and Dr. Gan Leong Ming from the Faculty of Mechanical Engineering (FTKMA).

Two courses are also open to the public, which are Conducting Teaching and Learning: iPad and Loom and

Meanwhile, Airin Abdul Ghani from the Faculty of Industrial Management said that she attended two training sessions and the training help in e-learning.

Through the training, she could explore new knowledge, including those with multimedia features such as a “Numerous innovations in education potentially drive and spur creative thinking,” she said.

The two-day training saw more than 500 participants engaged in several sessions.

Early registration can be made through <https://forms.gle/sBoscWGZh3eQm7Lq5>.

Students remain on campus during MCC

By: MOHAMAD HAKIMI KAMARUDIN, OFFICE OF THE VICE-CHANCELLOR

Translation by: DR. ROZAIMI ABU SAMAH, FACULTY OF CHEMICAL AND PROCESS ENGINEERING T

The Movement Control Order (MCO) until 14 April 2020 certainly provides the experience that will be Malaysia Pahang (UMP), especially those who remain on the campus.

The directive does not deter the students to find alternatives to pass the time despite being able to return to campus.

According to the third year student from the Faculty of Industrial Management, Risman Kusaini, many perform daily activities or routines during the MCO.

“However, that does not deter them from continuing to engage in healthy activities and care for their wellbeing.”

“To maintain healthy and active, they can still do minimum activities through exercise, stretching or physical activities that work multiple muscles without special equipment, and can help to improve blood circulation and strength.”

“These activities do not involve contact and can be done privately and anywhere,” he said.

This period also gives them chances to complete assignments and clean rooms.

He added, “Apart from studying, much time is used to surf the internet, watch movies and play online games.”

This Sabah-born lad decided to stay on the campus, for he understands the concerns over the Covid-19 outbreak.

He is also grateful to UMP for being responsible for ensuring the welfares of the students in UMP Pekan and “Daily necessities such as food, medicine, and toiletries are available and sufficient.

“My family do not worry about my situation here because UMP provides the assistance needed.

“I am deeply indebted to the UMP staff who always give the best support to us,” he said.

In the effort of raising awareness among the UMP associates and the local community about Covid-19 and hand washing, UMP also organised short video, photo, and poster competitions.

Students are advised to obey the directive by the National Security Council and the rules and regulations of health are in good condition.

EDITORIAL TEAM

Patron

Professor Ir. Dr. Wan Azhar Wan Yusoff

Editor-in-Chief

Ts. Dr. Muhamad Mat Noor

Editor

Safriza Haji Baharuddin

Contributors

Mimi Rabita Abd Wahit
Nur Hartini Mohd Hatta
Nor Salwana Haji Mohammad Idris

Web Master

Mohd Suhaimi Mohd Hassan

Designer

Azman Md Diah

Photographer

Khairu Aidilnisha Rizan Jalil
Muhammad Naufal Samsudin

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system or otherwise, without the prior written permission from the publisher. The appearance of advertisements in this publication do not necessarily represent the views of Universiti Malaysia Pahang. Universiti Malaysia Pahang does not accept any liability towards any losses experienced by subscribers or contributors. The design and non-performance based on information provided in this publication is a combination of images, colors, and text (hereinafter referred to as "Design") of this magazine is copy righted. All rights reserved. For enquiries or contributions of articles, please contact the Editor.

Editor

Publication Unit

Corporate Communication Division

Office of the Vice-Chancellor

Universiti Malaysia Pahang, 26600

Pahang Darul Makmur

Tel. : 09-424 5057

Fax : 09-424 5055

e-Mail : safriza@ump.edu.my

ISSN 2180-3099

9 772180 309006

5-Star World Class Technological University

www.ump.edu.my

UMP
MyGift
An Encouraging Gift

UMP
Green

UMP
We Care

- 46 views

View PDF