Finswimming: A Contemporary Water Sport to Discover in Malaysia

31 May 2021

Finswimming is a speed competition sport practiced at the surface or underwater for a speed. It is one of the sports included in the World Games. In this game, athletes compete with equipment such as masks, front-fins (also known as monofins) either by holding breath, breathing tube (snorkel), or using a pressurised tank. The arms and legs are used for propulsion and the body's vertical displacement in monofins. Meanwhile, the breaststroke skill is used.
